Boundless Opportunities

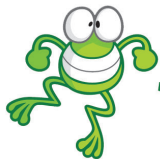

WHY?

Our Founder and Board President Todd Snyder was helping his daughter and her peers with a school project that required research on the Internet along with the development of a presentation. Some of those students didn't have Internet access at their homes. When presentation time arrived, the students with an Internet connection at home were able to deliver a more comprehensive project. The need to help bridge the digital divide became apparent to Todd, and JumpWireless.org was formed. Now, part of our mission at JumpWireless.org is to make sure all students have the same educational advantages. In fact, we want everyone to research, connect, bank, shop, and stream. And, above all else, we want everyone to enjoy the positive Boundless Opportunities of the Internet.

HOW?

JumpWireless.org has developed a partnership with Mobile Citizen, another non-profit organization with a similar mission, to provide unlimited, affordable Internet service to our communities.
